Privacy Notice

The purpose of this notice is to inform you of the type of information that the surgery holds; how that information is used; who we may share that information with; and how we keep it secure and confidential.

The surgery has a duty to ensure that your personal data is kept confidential, secure and used appropriately.

What kind of information do we use?

There are different types of information collected and used across the NHS. It should be noted that information which cannot identify an individual does not come under the Data Protection Act 2018.

We use the following types of information/data:

1. Anonymised data, which is data about you but from which you cannot be personally identified
2. De-identified data with pseudonym identifier, which is data about you but we are able to track you through the patient pathway without using your personal information, and you cannot be personally identified
3. De-identified data with weakly pseudonym identifier such as the NHS number. We use this to link two or more types of datasets together using your NHS number
4. Personal data which you can be personally identified from (this includes information such as your name and address)
5. Special category data which tells us something about you (this includes information such as your ethnicity and health information)

We will only use information that may identify you (known also as personal confidential data) in accordance with the: Data Protection Act 2018 – The Data Protection Act requires us to have a legal basis if we wish to process any personal information.

Covid-19 Policy

Our practice has a legal obligation under the COVID-19 Public Health Directions 2020 to share pseudonymised patient data in relation to COVID-19. You can read more about this here: Here you can find additional information about OpenSAFELYk

NHS England has been directed by the government to establish and operate the OpenSAFELY COVID-19 Service and the OpenSAFELY Data Analytics Service. These services provide a secure environment that supports research, clinical audit, service evaluation and health surveillance for COVID-19 and other purposes.

Each GP practice remains the controller of its own GP patient data but is required to let approved users run queries on pseudonymised patient data. This means identifiers are removed and replaced with a pseudonym.

Only approved users are allowed to run these queries, and they will not be able to access information that directly or indirectly identifies individuals.

Patients who do not wish for their data to be used as part of this process can register a type 1 opt out with their GP.

What do we use your information for?

We hold your medical record so that we can provide you with safe care and treatment. We will also use your information so that our surgery can check and review the quality of care we provide, this helps us to improve the service we provide to you. We shall share relevant information from your medical record with other health or social care staff or organisations when they provide you with care. For example, your GP will share information when they refer you to a specialist in hospital or your GP will send details about your prescription to your chosen pharmacy.

Aside from sharing information directly for your care, there are some other purposes that we may share data for, including:

Risk Stratification

Risk stratification is a process GPs use to help them to identify a person who may benefit from a targeted healthcare intervention and to help prevent un-planned hospital admissions or reduced the risk of certain diseases developing such as type 2 diabetes. This is called risk stratification for case-finding. As part of this, our surgery uses a primary care software system called Eclipse.

NHS Digital

NHS Digital is a national body which has legal responsibilities to collect information about health and social care services. It collects information from across the NHS in England and provides reports on how the NHS is performing. These reports help to plan and improve services to patients. This surgery must comply with the law and will send data to NHS Digital, for example, when it is told to do so by the Secretary of State for Health or NHS England under the Health and Social Care Act 2012.

The General Practice Extraction Service (GPES) collects information for a wide range of purposes, including providing GP payments. It works with the Calculating Quality Reporting Service (CQRS) and GP clinical systems as part of the GP Collections service. Find out more here.

Care Quality Commission (CQC)

The CQC regulates health and social care services to ensure that safe care is provided. The law says that we must report certain serious events to the CQC, for example, when patient safety has been put at risk. For more information about the CQC see: <http://www.cqc.org.uk/>

Public Health

The law requires us to share data for public health reasons, for example to prevent the spread of infectious diseases or other diseases which threaten the health of the population. We will report the relevant information to local health protection team or Public Health England.

Who do we share your information with?

We may share your information with other parties dealing with your care. When we do this we will inform you first unless we have a legal basis. We will not share your information with marketing organisations or other organisations that could cause you harm or lead to intrusive contact.

Some examples are:

- Local Council
- Hospital
- Mental Health Trust
- Ambulance Service

Wickham Market Medical Centre

- Care Homes
- Social Care
- Safeguarding
- Integrated Care Board (ICB)
- Clinical system providers
- Police
- Coroner
- Medical Examiners
- Confidential Waste removal company
- Voluntary Sector Organisations

We will keep you informed of how your data is used through this privacy notice, however please note that there may be times when we may not notify you such as for the prevention and detection of crime, safeguarding purposes, or as requested by a Court Order. We will only do this when the law requires us to do so.

Primary Care Network

We are a member of Deben Health Primary Care Network (PCN). This means we will be working closely with a number of other Practices and health and care organisations to provide healthcare services to you.

During the course of our work we may share your information with these Practices and health care organisations/professionals. We will only share this information where it relates to your direct healthcare needs.

When we do this, we will always ensure that appropriate agreements are in place to protect your information and keep it safe and secure. This is also what the Law requires us to do.

If you would like to see the information the PCN holds about you please contact the Practice Manager. See also your rights as a patient listed below.

Multi-disciplinary Meetings

A multidisciplinary team (MDT) is a group of health and care staff who are members of different organisations and professions (e.g. GPs, social workers, nurses), that work together to make decisions regarding the treatment of individual patients and service users. MDTs are used in both health and care settings.

A list of MDT professionals could include the following:

Nurse Assessors, Social Care Practitioners, Physiotherapists, Occupational Therapist, Ward Nurses, Dieticians/Nutritionist, GPs/Consultants/Other Medical Practitioners, Community Psychiatric Nurses, Police, Care Home/Support Provider Staff, Community Nurses, Specialist Nurses, Community Matrons and Discharge Nurses

MDT In Person vs Virtual

MDTs in their current format necessitate face-to-face contact between multiple clinical teams, they have the potential to act as potent accelerators of viral transmission. This created an urgent need to increase remote working across the health and care system. Teams are enabled to set Virtual MDTs using MS Teams which has given NHS staff a secure tool for instant messaging, video conferencing, sharing clinical information, images, and more

In an MDT, only information that is relevant and necessary for the patient or service user's care will be shared.

Social Prescribing

Social Prescribing enables GPs, nurses and other primary care professionals to refer people to a range of local, non-clinical services. NHS England describes social prescribing as “enabling all local agencies to refer people to a link worker”. Link workers - known locally as Community Connectors - give people time and focus on what matters to the person. They connect people to community groups and agencies for practical and emotional support. If you have an appointment with a Community Connector, only limited information would be passed on. There are agreements in place to protect your data.

Diabetic Eye Screening

The Diabetic Eye Screening Programme in this area is provided by In Health. All patients aged 12 and over, with a diagnosis of diabetes will be referred by their GP surgery to the diabetic eye screening programme. You can find more information about this service as Diabetic Eye Screening - InHealth Group

Text Messages

Please note that we will use your mobile number to text you with information regarding your care such as appointment reminders.

We may also use your mobile number to send you links to surveys that will help our practice to improve your experience of our service.

Our practice uses the Gov.uk Notify platform to send out text messages for such surveys. We only share your mobile number, and no further personal identifiable information.

Please let us know if you would not like your mobile number used for any purpose.

Call Recording

Please note that this practice records its calls for training and quality purposes.

CCTV

Please note that this practice uses CCTV.

Weight Management and Obesity Services

NHS Norfolk and Suffolk ICB have commissioned a single point of access for weight management and obesity services.

This is a digital referral system where all referrals for weight management and obesity services are sent. The referral form is built into your GP practice's clinical system and automatically fills in relevant information from your primary care record. Your privacy is protected throughout this process. The name shown as accessing your medical record is the person who is logged into the clinical system at the time the referral is completed. This does not mean that this person has opened or read your medical record. It simply means their system access has been used to automatically complete the referral form for the clinician or staff member who is making the referral.

This helps to make the referral process more efficient for both NHS staff and patients.

The significance of referral administrators, referral clerks, or medical secretaries

Admin and clerical teams in GP practices play a critical role in managing patient referrals to secondary care, ensuring that referrals are processed safely, efficiently, and in line with clinical protocols. These roles, often titled Referral Administrators, Referral Clerks, or Medical Secretaries, act as the bridge between GPs and external healthcare providers, managing the end-to-end process from initial processing to appointment confirmation.

How do we keep your information safe?

All staff have contractual obligations of confidentiality, enforceable through disciplinary procedures. All staff will receive appropriate training on confidentiality of information and staff who have regular access to personal confidential data will have received additional specialist training.

We take relevant organisational and technical measures to make sure that the information we hold is secure – such as holding information in secure locations, restricting access to information to authorised personnel, protecting personal and confidential information held on equipment such as laptops with encryption and information is transferred safely and securely.

The surgery does not transfer personal confidential information overseas without adequate protection.

Under the Data Protection Act 2018, the surgery is required to register with the Information Commissioner's Office detailing all purposes for which personal identifiable data is collected, held and processed.

The surgery has a legal duty to protect any information we collect from you. We use leading technologies and encryption software to safeguard your data and keep strict security standards to prevent any unauthorised access to it.

The surgery will not pass on your details to any third party or other government department unless you consent to this or when it is necessary and or required to by law. The surgery is party to a number of information sharing agreements which are drawn up to ensure information is shared in a way that complies with relevant legislation.

How long do we keep your information for?

There are different retention schedules for different types of information and types of record. In the NHS, all commissioners and providers apply retention schedules in accordance with the NHS Records Management Code of Practice.

NHS data are subject to legal retention periods and should not be destroyed unless specific instructions to do so has been determined and received from the Data Controller.

Your Data Matters

Information about your health and care helps us to improve your individual care, speed up diagnosis, plan your local services and research new treatments. In May 2018, the strict rules about how this data can and cannot be used were strengthened. The NHS is committed to keeping patient information safe and always being clear about how it is used.

The National Data Opt-Out programme is a service that allows patients to opt out of their confidential patient information being used for research and planning.

Patients can view or change their national data opt-out choice at any time by using the online service at www.nhs.uk/your-nhs-data-matters.

Raising concerns

If you are concerned about the way we are handling your information or wish to make a complaint, please contact the Business Manager on 01728 747101.

If you still have further concerns, then please contact the Data Protection Officer – Paul Cook – email: dpo@snee.nhs.uk
